DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The two story, shingled, single, detached residence has a hipped gable roof which shelters the main facade and at the side, a centre gable with an additional projecting gable which covers a two story bay. The flat-roofed, closed gallery is supported by turned posts, decorated by corner brackets and a plain boxed cornice.

The main first story windows are nearly equal in height to the first story wall. They are simply double hung, 2/2 construction with plain trim surround and shutters. The second story oriel windows share the same design as the lower story but have brackets overhead and are smaller in height in proportion to the story.

Framed by the plain boxed pedimented cornice of the hipped gable roof is a balcony with bannister and plain trim surround which contains a tall window, also with plain trim.

BUILDER/ARCHITECT

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The residence is similar in design to other homes in the area but stands unique because of the size and comparable complexity of design used throughout. The home is representative of others built during the 1875-99 period of development. The shingled, asymmetrical, country house displays remnants of the Victorian and Queen Anne styles of architecture popular during the last half of the nineteenth century, but must qualify as a relaxed and informal adoption of architectural style.
